FEEDBACK FROM GUESTS FOLLOWING THE UNVEILING OF THE MAHATMA GANDHI MEMORIAL AT KEDAR HERITAGE LODGE ON THE 19TH OF SEPTEMBER 2015

"Most remarkable of all was the collection of original artefacts from the Anglo-Boer War, spread around the facilities at Kedar. This came as a revelation, to find such a breath-taking array, with so many items of great depth and interest."

Eric Itzkin is the Deputy Director of of the Arts Culture and Heritage Directorate of City of Johannesburg Community Development Department.

"Adam has once again shown his genius, with the superb sculpture of Ghandi, positioned so beautifully overlooking the bush. Kedar continues to delight and surprise those who have not been there before and its reputation continues to grow in leaps and bounds."

Terry Fenton-Wells is a Director at SA Magic Tours

"On behalf of my partner, Elandskop Museum and The Ingredients Production's, we just want to thank you for the invitation and being part of your historic event. We enjoyed our stay and hospitality! Please pass our thanks and gratitude to Mr Robert Forsyth, the staff and everyone who made our stay worthwhile. We look forward to visiting Kedar Heritage Lodge in the future."

Twin Mosia is a Curator at the Elandskop Museum

"What a privilege to attend as your guests – and as usual, your generous hospitality and that of your magnificent staff were quite outstanding and truly appreciated. Congratulations on a fabulous and unique event, suberbly arranged, hosted and executed; with no expense or effort spared!"

Patrick Armstrong – Director of Battlefield Management & Leadership Solutions

"I would just like to point out how proud it makes me feel as an Indian citizen of SA, to see a company like yours taking the initiative to recognize the Great Mahatma Gandhi. The Indian culture has always been one of passive resistance, from generation to generation influenced by Mahatma Gandhi.

We do not have a large Indian population in the North West, kudos to Recreation Africa for making history come alive and commemorate a great leader in this province."

Ash Ramraj General Manager Hyundai Rustenburg.
